PROBABLE THAT PETITIONS MAY YET BE FILED

According to the opinion of a prominent Maysville attorney, candidates for city offices may yet file their petitions. He says that the thirty-day law applies only to the primary. If this is the case there may be several more candidates announce, especially in the City Council race. At present no one has announced for Councilman in the Third Ward and it is thought that as soon as it is definitely known that candidates may still file petitions that several will announce in the Third.

She states that to their union eleven children have been born, four of whom have married.

She also states that the defendant owns eighty-one acres of good Mason county farm land in the East Mayslick precinct, known as the old Shanklin farm, and that he has large crops of tobacco, corn and live stock, which she believes he will fraudulently dispose of.
